Bible Reading Plan and Prayer Guide

(Year ONE) February 2016

Ho! Everyone who thirsts, come to the waters; and you who have no money come, buy and eat. Come, buy wine and milk without money and without cost. Why do you spend money for what is not bread, and your wages for what does not satisfy? Listen carefully to me and eat what is good, and delight yourself in abundance. —Isaiah 55:1-2

Spiritual Health

Spending time with God is the healthiest habit there is. Eternal life and vitality flow from one Source—our Creator. True spiritual transformation springs from an ongoing relationship with our Savior. Look at your time with God as a habit, a life style, a kind of spiritual fitness program.

- Breathe Out: Confess to God your dependence on Him, your sin, your needs, your fears, doubts, questions. Give them—give yourself—to Him.
- Breathe In: Fill your heart with the greatness of God. Confess His Lordship and right to command. Acknowledge your obligation to obey. Notice His provision. Thank Him for His blessings. Start to count them, and you will never stop.
- Drink Deep: Ask the Spirit of God to fill you, to guide you, to cleanse you, to teach you, to make you new, to fill you with God's love.
- Feed Well: Read God's Word. Learn the story of His unfolding plan of redemption, the wisdom of His ways. Note His promises and how He keeps them. Submit to His commands. Let them teach and change you.
- Seek Christ: The Voice who spoke the universe into being speaks through His Word. The God who appeared to Abraham, entered our world. The Lord who provided a
