
Word of God is the story of the ages. Its setting is the heavens and the earth, and its plot centers on the relationship between God and Humanity—a relationship severed by our own choice but reestablished through the drama of redemption.

God's work is the center of the drama. His love drives the story. The story of Abraham is more than Abraham's story. It's the account of how God created a way to reach into our world to redeem it. It wasn't just Joseph's life that was endangered by his brothers. As he sat in prison, God's plan of redemption stood on a razor's edge. But what man meant for evil, God turned to good, "to preserve many people alive." Not just the Hebrew people but everyone who would be saved through them. Everyone saved through Christ.

If you love history, the Bible is the Book for you. In its accounts, Israel rubs elbows with the great empires of the ancient world. Egypt of the pharaohs, the unparalleled Assyrian empire, Babylon the Great, Persia, Greece, Rome all find a place in the history of God's people.

While these vaunted civilizations impress the history buff, to God they are like a speck of dust on his scales. In the pages of Scripture, history shows Who it is that "rules the world with truth and grace and makes the nations prove the glories of His righteousness and wonders of His love." History reveals Jesus Christ, the King of kings.

As you read God's Word, look for Christ on every page.

Bible Reading Plan and Prayer Guide

(Year TWO) April 2018

Jesus said to them, "O foolish men and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken! "Was it not necessary for the Christ to suffer these things and to enter into His glory?" Then beginning with Moses and with all the prophets, He explained to them the things concerning Himself in all the Scriptures. —Luke 24:25-27

These Testify about Me.

The Bible is the Book of Books, but it's more than just a book. It's a testimony about God's work, which began before the world, shapes all of time, and leads to eternity. From cover to cover, it tells about Jesus Christ: Creator, Redeemer, coming King.

Most would call the Bible a book of religion or philosophy—a claim to truth in the arena of ideas. Certainly, like other religious books, it contains moral values, principles to follow, prescribed rituals and sacrifices.

But God's Word doesn't stop with rituals and prescriptions for righteous behavior. It relentlessly reveals an awful truth we dare not face. It confronts the harsh, undeniable reality of sin—our utter inability, even refusal, to do what is right as God defines it.

Intertwined with the heartbreak of humanity, as Scripture unfolds the truth, hope emerges. A hope that God put there. It's the hope of a Redeemer. He is the Truth. He performed all the rituals, followed all the principles, and embodied God's perfect righteousness.

But Jesus was more than a perfect example. He became the perfect sacrifice. The truth is that there is nothing God prescribes that He is not willing to do Himself. He proved this when He sacrificed His Son. The Bible testifies to Christ's triumph over our sin, as He surrendered His will—and His life—to obey His Father.

You will never find a better work of literature than the Bible. Its verbal artistry is beyond compare. But its beauty doesn't account for why no book in history has sold more copies. The
