His life as a sacrifice for our sins. People don't sacrifice themselves for their enemies. Jesus did. He paid a price beyond imagining to buy back a world that belonged to Him by right. To make things the way they were meant to be.

Death was not meant to be. The God of life filled the world with life then gave up His life for that world. But He wasn't meant to stay dead. Jesus came back to life and conquered death, to make things as they ought to be. The celebration at Easter is the essence of our faith. The King of Creation purchased us from slavery to sin at the price of His blood. Then He broke the chains of death to destroy the devil on his own turf. Jesus Christ is King by creation, King by purchase, and King by conquest. That's what we celebrate at Easter.

Palm fronds fan the April breeze. A crowd gathers along the road. Eyes are wide with anticipation, people tiptoe in attempts to see. Humbly a man rides on the back of a donkey, without pretense or grandeur. The beast of burden steps hesitantly across coats and articles of clothing, an impromptu red carpet in honor of Jesus. He's worthy of their cry: "Hosanna to the Son of David; Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest."

And the praise goes on, from resurrection to ascension, through the Church Age until now. Join the chorus of praise to your Creator, Redeemer, and King. He is worthy to have all people in all the earth sing His praise for all eternity. So start now. THIS is how things are meant to be.

(Year THREE) April 2018

Behold, your King is coming to you, gentle and mounted on a donkey, even a colt, the foal of a beast of burden. Hosanna to the Son of David; Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest. —Matthew 21:5 & 9

How Things Were Meant to Be

The waves caress the shore. The breeze brushes my face. The rocks of the jetty glisten in the sun and bristle with fishermen. All of the week's work is done and I'm on vacation, so I'm free to watch boats cruise by and listen to the children shriek with joy on the beach. We're celebrating my daughter's sixteenth birthday, surrounded by family and friends. THIS is how things are meant to be!

We have so much to praise God for! Our good God made a good world then created us to enjoy Him and our world. "Shout joyfully to the Lord, all the earth. Serve the Lord with gladness. ... Know that the Lord Himself is God. It is He who made us, and not we ourselves" (Psalm 100:1-3). There are moments, when we are so surrounded by His goodness we just have to rejoice. I wish it were always that way.

Of course, it's not always that way. Fortunately, we have seasons that remind us who God is and why He deserves our praise. At Christmas we celebrate the fact that God not only made us, He became one of us. Wow! What love! What an honor that the God who spoke the universe into being desired our company that much. Angels in amazement filled the sky to sing His praise. For a moment, the king received the glory He deserves.

Good Friday reminds us of another staggering reality. Reasons only God understands, reasons hidden in the depths of His incomprehensible love, led Jesus—God incarnate—to give up
